Marketing Plan

Part I – Synopsis

The Southern Heat Baseball Academy is a high quality all-in-one indoor sports facility equipped with a full sized baseball diamond, batting cages, state-of-the-art-gym, and store. The academy is devoted to giving young athletes the necessary instruction to progress to the next level of competition. Southern Heat Baseball is different from other academies because it practices an individualized, biomechanical approach to teaching professional techniques from expert players, coaches, and trainers that are proven to show results.

Part II – Company Goals

Southern Heat would be built on the idea not only to give the necessary space for athletes to use when training and practicing, but also the knowledge on how to train and use the space. The Southern Heat Baseball Academy looks to solve the issues with competitors to reach a solution to three problems, Operation Time, Expertise, and Individualized Instruction.

Part III – Description of Customers and their Needs

The target market is Frisco athletes under the age of 18, but more in particular, the primary customer would be higher income families with kids. Southern Heat looks to supply families with the investment in their children's athletic careers to be more than just a hobby. Families in Frisco, Colorado, being highly devoted and determined to their athletics, should be the perfect target market as the families will stop at no expense to purchase the necessary training required for their children to become the best players and open opportunities for them later in life.

Part IV – Description of Pricing Strategy

Revenue for the Southern Heat Baseball Academy comes from four main sources; Baseball Academy Memberships, Daily Passes, Store Sales, and Individual Lessons. Points will be added to the account for every purchase and session with trainers and the points will be the amount of money taken off of the membership dues for the next year with a maximum of 250 points.

Part V – Competition

Southern Heat Baseball Academy is more than just a hitting complex. Southern Heat Baseball Academy is one of a kind with a full, indoor-sized baseball field, equipped with remotely controlled cages, automatic operating cages, professional grade baseballs, practice balls, and a state of the art gym. We are different than our competitors by offering expert coaches and trainers that teach proven techniques, and offering an all-in-one state-of-the-art facility that's open around the clock. Southern Heat Baseball is closely located to Frisco, Colorado and is in a better location for the target market than the competitive counterparts.

Southern Heat Baseball Academy will be able to attract new customers by supplying interested members with a free day pass given they are accompanied by a parental guardian or have a waiver signed if under the age of 18. Southern Heat will be present at all regional tournaments and activities with the travel trailer to present as a new academy and try to sell and show products and the membership services. Southern Heat will also look to attract new customers and sponsors by holding seasonal Showcase Events, as well as Open Facility Weekends to feature the academy and athletes and their abilities.
