State Preliminary Scenario

You work at PBA Insurance where you answer telephone and email inquiries, prepare estimates for customers, and help promote the agency via social media posts. Your normal working hours are 8:30 A.M. until 5:30 P.M, Monday thru Friday. Recently, your employer went out of town for three days to a national insurance conference. With your employer out of town, you had telephone calls forwarded to your home and kept your laptop with you. Some days you did not get into the office until noon. You knew that your employer wouldn't find out.

The next week you are spending some time updating the agency's Facebook page when you notice a couple customer reviews that alarm you. Both customers voiced concern that they came to the agency to have some paperwork signed and there was no one there. The customers posted the dates and times they were at the agency. You know your employer does check social media in order to respond directly to customers.

- How do you respond to the customers who posted the concern?
- How do you respond to your boss?
- How do you create a plan to move forward in your position?

A contestant will be DISQUALIFIED for violations of the Copyright and Fair Use Guidelines.

Contestants who do not submit an entry that follows this topic will be disqualified.

Critical Behaviors Desired:

Honesty, trust, and customer service are key to the response. You did not abide by the policies of the business and you need to discuss this with your employer. Set up a face-to-face meeting and explain what happened. You have violated the trust of your employer and should he/she choose to keep you on in their employment, you must devise a plan to build back the trust in the relationship. You should also discuss how to respond to the online comments regarding this issue.
