Job 1: Client Memorandum

MEMORANDUM

TO: James and Nora Redmond

FROM: Rene Forsheim

DATE: [current date]

SUBJECT: Dorman vs. Redmond, Yellowstone County Case No. BI-389

This memorandum will present my review and analysis of the answers to interrogatories recently filed by the plaintiff, provide a status report of where we are in discovery process, and outline my recommendations for moving forward.

1. The plaintiff sought medical treatment after she suffered a bite on her left arm allegedly inflicted on her from your dog on September 12, 2020, while she was visiting friends in Billings, Montana.
2. The first and only treatment sought in Montana by the plaintiff was on September 12, 2020. She was treated at an emergency care facility with standard treatment for an animal bite, including vaccination and stitches.
3. The plaintiff returned to Dearborn, Michigan, in the days following the incident. Shortly thereafter the plaintiff sought medical treatment from her primary physician on October 3, 2020. The primary physician began treatment for infection in the wound.
4. From October 3, 2020, until the time of the plaintiff's answers to interrogatories, she had been seen by eight different providers with over 32 visits. This includes visits to a provider who was treating her for mental anguish and anxiety due to the incident.
5. The plaintiff's primary treating physician acknowledged complete healing of the animal bite wound at a visit in December.

My recommendation at this time is to request medical records from the eight different providers. We will need to schedule a trip to Michigan and take depositions of some or all of these providers, but it will be most efficient if we examine the medical records first. The largest part of the plaintiff's claim for damages is pain and suffering. Therefore, we will need to depose the provider who is treating the plaintiff for mental anguish. While we are there, we will depose some of the other providers that we deem necessary.

I will request the medical records from Mr. Embego or through the court, if necessary. We will review them and make decisions about next steps.
