Job 1: Memorandum

MEMORANDUM

TO: All Department Leads or (Harvey Rosen, Tom Carlson, Julie Smith, Roger Meyer, Edna Renick)

FROM: Nancy Wells, Chief Executive Officer

DATE: [Current Date]

SUBJECT: Wellness Week

We are excited to announce that this year the week between the observed Christmas holiday and the observed New Year's Day that Digital Solutions will be taking a wellness week. This wellness week will be paid time for each employee to spend time with friends and family. Please remind each of your associates to complete their time sheet in the payroll system to reflect the time off on their productivity chart.

Digital Solutions feels this week will provide a sense of relaxation and much needed rest after a very long year of hard work. Our clients have already been notified that our office will be closed and to not expect communication electronically like usual due to the week off work. Most of our clients were pleased to hear the great news for our employees.

Finally, remember to set up Out of Office or “OOO” reminders in Outlook to reflect that you will be out for the wellness week and respond to email upon returning. Enjoy this time and take pictures of the activities you and your family do over the week for our social media page. We want to see the fun things you all are doing. Happy Wellness Week!

Job 4: Report

Julie Smith

Edna Renick

Administrative Support Department

[Current Date in Military Style]

Use the following information to create a one-page report using the current date. The report is from Julie Smith to Edna Renick. The title of the report is Using Microsoft OneNote. Grader, please note words that are bold and underlined in the letter below for correcting spellings.

Using Microsoft OneNote

A great software that provides ease to organizing data, notes, and so much more, Microsoft OneNote offers its users the option to keep word processed, snipped and cut, copy and paste material orderly in a notebook fashion. It's the old concept of a notebook but in a digital format.

Great Features

There are many features that you can use in Microsoft OneNote. These features allow the user to create beautiful, organized content for any project. Some of these features are listed below.

1. Separating files into binders or by content and use color coding to help organize files.
2. Easily cut, copy, and paste features from online sources and organize as you do research.

We recommend using the software in any company or business setting. The software comes as part of the Microsoft Suite that your company purchases directly through the Microsoft Exchange program.

Implementation of Software

OneNote is so easy to use. The average Word user should have no problem using this software and begin creating organized content. We suggest implementing through project management and see how managers can be creative. OneNote is the software that will replace all those handwritten notes and become the binder of content in a digital world.
