NATIONAL FINAL SCENARIO:

During her break, Trish was playing basketball with some fellow Digital Solutions' employees in the parking lot. During the pick-up game, which went way beyond her break time, she slipped and twisted her ankle. She was limping back to work in the shipping department after break. Her employer saw her limping and, thinking Trish had slipped on the job, told her to fill out an incident report. He also offered to take care of Trish's medical expenses and give her time off from work, even though Trish is still capable of performing her work duties.

- What are Trish's next steps and how will they potentially affect her professional and personal reputation?
- What, if any, responsibility do Trish's fellow basketball players have in this situation?
- What, if any, company ethics policies and/or procedures may be involved in this scenario?
- What are the possible consequences, including legal action, if Trish keeps quiet about what really happened and takes time off with medical benefits?
