OPEN HAND COLUMBUS PARTNERS WITH DINING OUT FOR LIFE

Open Hand Columbus and presenting sponsor CarTec are honored to announce that over $127,000 was raised during the 29th annual Dining Out for Life benefit event, which was held on April 27, 2025. The annual event saw the city dine out at well-known restaurants from all over the Metro Columbus area to benefit the non-profit. One of the largest city-wide fundraisers of the year, proceeds from Dining Out for Life help Open Hand Columbus and its thousands of volunteers provide nearly 5,000 nutritious meals daily and support their neighbors battling chronic disease and disability to live healthier, more independent lives.

Dining Out for Life is an international event that occurs annually throughout 60 cities worldwide. While dining out for breakfast, lunch and dinner in Columbus, guests could choose from a list of over 80 participating restaurants. In return, the restaurants donated a portion of each customer's total bill to Open Hand Columbus. This year's restaurants included Columbus favorites, such as Saucy Rocco's, The General Delger, Local Five, Max Pint's and Pollo.

On September 29, Open Hand Columbus's annual benefit Party in the Kitchen will return for its 19th year. Hosted in The Stage Room at American WaterWorks, this formal fundraising

Job 2 - Letter

March 10, 20-- (use current date)

Ms. Olivia Sykes
Solvent Industries
4562 Market St
St. Paul, MN 55105

Dear Ms. Sykes

I wanted to write you a letter to address a problem we have encountered with your order department on the last two occasions we have purchased from you. Both of our last two orders with your company were not completed in full. They were both missing one ream of paper, totaling 1,000 sheets of paper in all. While one oversight is acceptable, I am hoping this is not becoming a pattern.

I would like this situation to kindly be rectified by the two reams of paper being replaced and sent to my attention. I am including a copy of the recent packing slips and orders.

We have enjoyed doing business with your company over the years and look forward to this situation being addressed so we can move forward and continue to do so. Please contact me if you have any questions about this matter.

Sincerely

Harvey Rosen

Companies Push Prices Higher, Protecting Profits

Some of the world's biggest companies have said they do not plan to change course and will continue increasing prices or keep them at elevated levels for the foreseeable future.

That strategy has cushioned corporate profits. And it could keep inflation robust, contributing to the very pressures used to justify surging prices.

Rising Interest Rates

As a result, some economists warn policymakers that the Federal Reserve may feel compelled to keep raising interest rates, or at least not lower them, increasing the likelihood and severity of an economic downturn.

Solvent Counters Increased Costs

John Houston, the company's chief financial officer, said in February that Solvent had raised its prices by enough to buffer further cost pressures in 2023. At the end of April, the company reported that it had raised the average price across its snacks and beverages by 16% in the first three months of the year. That added to a similar price increase in the fourth quarter of 2022 and increased its profit margin.

The Producer and Consumer Price Indexes

But those go-to rationales for elevating prices, he added, are now receding. The Producer Price Index, which measures the prices that businesses pay for goods and services before they are sold to consumers, reached a high of 11.7% last spring. That rate plunged to 2.3% for the 12 months through April.

Other corporations have found that fewer sales at higher prices have still helped them earn bigger profits, a dynamic that Mr. Stone of Pabor has coined “price over volume.”

Galaxy, Inc., which in addition to commanding a roughly 40% toothpaste market sells kitchen soap and other goods, had a standout first quarter. Its operating profit for the year through March rose 6% from a year earlier — the result of a 12% increase in prices even as volume declined by 2%.

The recent bonanza for corporate profits, however, may soon start to fizzle.
