SOYLENT INDUSTRIES NEW PRODUCT LAUNCH

Soylent Industries, a trailblazer in 3D printing proudly announces the launch of its latest breakthrough – the SLI 3000. This revolutionary printer is set to redefine the landscape of 3D printing prototypes with its unparalleled features and functionality.

Designed with dental practices in mind, the SLI 3000 boasts a seamless blend of style, sophistication, and state-of-the-art technology. Its sleek design coupled with advanced engineering sets a new standard for dentistry. Whether you're an oral surgeon, a dentist, or a dental hygienist, the SLI 3000 is tailored to elevate your experience to unprecedented heights.

"We are thrilled to introduce the SLI 3000 to the world," said James Soylent, CAD certified professional at Soylent Industries. "With its groundbreaking technology and user-centric design, we believe it will revolutionize the way people use 3D printing in dentistry.

The SLI3000 will be available for pre-order starting on Soylent Industries official website, with shipping set to begin in January 2026. For more information, visit soylentindustries.com or contact Anthony Fuller at (620) 121-2121.
